BILL EMBLETON RIP

It is with sadness that I let you know that Bill Embleton passed away on 8 January. I would like to thank Bill's friends and carers (and Nurse Helen) for helping us to have Christmas and New Year at home. Bill's wishes were that he would be cremated and that his ashes would be spread at Springwell with those of Isabel (Belle). We are hoping to arrange a memorial service for Bill when we get more details. Thank you, everyone, for your help and kindness to Bill. – Brenda

CONSULTATION – NORDIC SEA SUMMER TIMETABLE 2026

Here is your opportunity to comment on the Nordic Sea's summer timetable 2026. A DRAFT of the proposed timetable is attached.

OIC's Service Manager – Transportation points out a three island timetable has been retained for Monday, Friday and Saturday, reducing to just two islands Tuesday – Thursday to provide a quicker and earlier sail in time. An alternative would be to reduce to a one island operation Tuesday – Thursday, providing each island with a dedicated service. Equally, the Tuesday – Thursday sailing could revert to a three island operation.

If you wish to comment on this please forward your response to Shane Hourston, Transport Rep by Friday 13th February.

In anticipation of another round of consultations in coming months on all SDT projects, the Stronsay Heritage Society wants to answer a number of questions you've asked about the Heritage Centre Project.

Why do you need a new building? Why not just stay where you are or use an already existing building, like the Craftship Enterprise or the Mill?

- About 700 of Stronsay's heritage artefacts are currently on display in two of the industrial units in Wood's Yard. The Stronsay Development Trust (SDT) has kindly housed the display for a number of years while a new, permanent home has been sought. Due to the generosity of so many of you, the collection of artefacts has swelled in the past five years, which means many artefacts are having to be stored in one of the containers in Wood's Yard and in the loft and shed at Steenysheed, where the public can't see them (and the residents could really do with reclaiming that space!). In other words, the heritage display has outgrown its present location, and neither the Craftship Enterprise nor the Mill would provide the necessary improvements in terms of display space and additional room for storage, office, research and refreshment that are needed for a well-developed Heritage Centre for the island.

Why are you planning to put the new Heritage Centre in the Village?

Since 2019, we have been observing the patterns of visitors to Stronsay and listened to their comments made directly to us or left in the Heritage Centre visitor book and on the comment board. Most visitors arrive by ferry, and many do not bring cars with them. Yes, some bring their own bicycles or hire ones from SDT, but their patterns are very similar to those of foot passengers: they visit the Heritage Centre in the morning, are pleasantly surprised at the amount of information and artefacts they find there, go out and enjoy other parts of the island, and then return to the Heritage Centre to wait for the ferry. On foul-weather days (of which there are many!), visitors appreciate the dry place with comfortable chairs and hot drinks that the Heritage Centre provides—especially on days or at times when neither the Fish Mart or the Hotel are open. As this is such an important element of the current Heritage Centre, we plan to include an area where drinks and food can be made and enjoyed in comfort by any who visit the new building.

- The new Heritage Trail, including the Boatie Hoose and Tidal Toilets, is located in the village and each of the boards recommends that visitors head to the nearby Heritage Centre for more in-depth information and to view artefacts related to the trail. We certainly hope that the Mill will one day be added to the island's heritage assets that will draw even more visitors, and we look forward to creating other heritage trails with different themes that will incorporate some of Stronsay's industrial buildings when that happens.
- Siting a new building on land that is already owned by the SDT and that has parking, water, electricity, phone/internet, septic tank, and drainage facilities already in place will help to greatly reduce costs of the project as a whole.

Why have you chosen a wooden structure?

- We considered two different kinds of structures – steel and wood – and were advised that it would be more efficient and inexpensive to build all the necessary wooden panels on island rather than ordering a kit from elsewhere. Building locally would have the added bonus of creating local employment and avoid the need to bring in and accommodate builders from farther afield. However, anticipated in-depth discussions with a structural engineer and an architect will answer many questions we still have about what's best (especially about the appropriate pitch/height/design of the roof) and may suggest another way forward. In other words, we are still seeking guidance on the best building for the location, costs, and purpose.

How much is it going to cost and how do you plan to pay for it?

- The project from conception to kitting-out with displays has been best-estimated at £500k. SDT are in full support of a new Heritage Centre for our island and have granted Feasibility Funding to move the project forward. They have also indicated that they would welcome a future application for funds from their Community Turbine fund to provide the significant portion needed for us to apply for match funding from outside funders, including the Heritage Lottery Fund, the Orkney Community Fund and OIC's Community Development Fund. We will also be creating a number of different – and hopefully entertaining and creative – ways for locals and Stronsay expats or “fans” to help generate funds to support the project.

When will you get started and when do you hope to complete the project?

- We are just beginning the process of gathering all the information we need to submit an application for Planning Permission and, if successful, for a Building Warrant. We anticipate that happening this summer. We've been told that many of the bigger funds will open next spring (2027), so we will be preparing the information we need for those applications over the course of this year. Perhaps we can break ground in the autumn of 2027.

How can we help?

- Participate in the upcoming SDT survey.

We can well understand that, by now, you'll be a bit weary of being asked to give your opinion about this project, but if you can dig deep and find a bit more patience, we'd be so grateful if you could let SDT know how you feel about the Heritage Centre Project. We've been told that there will be another online and public survey conducted in the next few months about the Heritage Centre Project (as well as other projects), and your voice really does matter when it comes to decision-making by the SDT Board.

- Contact the SDT Board.

You don't have to wait for the survey: you can contact the SDT Board via the Chair, Molly Allan, anytime and let her know how you feel: molly@stronsaydevelopmenttrust.com.

- Donate to the cause.

Many folk, some as far away as Australia, have already generously donated toward the new Heritage Centre. We gladly and gratefully receive donations at any time. Our email address is: heritagesocietystronsay@gmail.com.

- Keep an eye out for future fundraising events.

Our Santa Float fundraiser in December raised over £450 in just a couple of hours! The Stronsay community is a generous one. Thank you, one and all, for your participation in this fun community event.

A new research project looking at Stronsay place-names

Detail from Blaeu's Orcadum et Schetlandiae Insularum accuratissima, 1654.
Reproduced with the permission of the National Library of Scotland.

Stronsay, Old Norse Strjónsey

Although a frequent visitor to Orkney, May 2026 will be my first visit to Stronsay – and my reason for coming – I am researching the place-names of the island!

Between February 2024 and June 2025, I worked on the Ragna's Islands project looking at the place-names of The Saga of the Earls of Orkney (Orkneyinga Saga) and of Fair Isle, North Ronaldsay and Papay. The project concluded with a new translation of the Saga by Judith Jesch (available from the Orcadian Bookshop in Kirkwall!).

Stronsay occurs several times in the various manuscripts containing the saga, appearing as Straumsey Streamsey, Striansey, Striensø, Strionsey, and Strionsø. The last element is Old Norse (ON) ey 'island', common in Orkney place-names. The first element is less clear and has seen much discussion. In 1915 Magnus Olsen, a Norwegian philologist, suggested that Norwegian place-names containing the ON element strjón may have a comparable meaning to that of Old English streon with the sense 'gain, profit, wealth'. Olsen interpreted this term as relating to a rich catch, to fishing in particular. So the island name perhaps means 'island of good/rich fishing'. For a more in-depth discussion see the Ragna's Island's Stronsay blogpost.

We are lucky too, in that Stronsay and some of its place-names occur in the 1595 rental (a document concerned with estate renders owed by tenants to earls and bishops). But, there are many more names, field-names, shore-names, fishing-ground names and lost names that can tell us so much about Stronsay's past. These names are often late- or unrecorded and for such places local knowledge is vital, and this where my research comes in!

The study of place-names, many of which in Orkney may date back to the Norse period (c. 1100 CE–1468 CE) relies on early spellings found in archives like the one pictured in this early 18th century rental (ref. D14/9/5, courtesy of Orkney Archives). However, many minor place-names remain unrecorded until the late-nineteenth century, if they are recorded at all. For such places how they are pronounced by islanders can fossilise, phonetically, the elements (e.g. Green and Wall in Greenwall, perhaps from ON grœnn 'green' and vǫllr 'pasture, meadow') that make them up and so hearing the way that they are said is key to interpreting these names.

The main purpose of this first visit to Stronsay (from the 2nd – 9th May this year) is to find out more about Stronsay's place-names from those who know them best, to talk with islanders about their places, how they are spelled and, importantly, how they are pronounced.

Looking at places in situ, particularly where the place-names that label them is uncertain, is also essential to ground-truth any interpretations that may be drawn. So you may well spot me driving about taking photos of crofts, geos, hills and nesses in early May. If you spot me, come and say hello!

If you have any queries about place-names or would like to know more about what I am up to, or think you can help (perhaps you have some old deeds or maps and plans with place-names, house-names, field-names or fishing marks on them), or, if you would like to tell me about place-name pronunciations, then please do get in touch!

Projects & Development

British Science Week "Waste to Warmth to Growth"

SDT has been awarded a small grant by British Science Week to deliver a project called "Waste to Warmth to Growth".

Taking place 6th - 8th March pop the date in your diaries!

The project shows how waste cardboard becomes fuel, ash becomes compost, and compost supports growing - a full circular economy story, right here on Stronsay.

We will share news of all the activities we will be holding for all residents shortly.

Cellnex - Technology Support Workshops 'Tea and Tech'

Thanks to Cellnex funding, we'll be running technology advice sessions to help people with everyday digital needs. We are just waiting on the funds to be sent through to purchase the technology to support these sessions.

These workshops will be supported by community transport, making them accessible to as many people as possible.

Youth Club

We've received confirmation from Orkney Islands Council that applications were received during the last recruitment round. This is great news and we hope to hear further from OIC in due course.

Sewing & Mending Workshops

We're planning sewing and mending workshops funded through the OIC Circular Economy Crisis Grant. These sessions will focus on repair, reuse, and practical skills, with SDT staff working alongside the Men's Shed to deliver hands-on, friendly workshops for the community. We are looking to commence these mid February.

Community Defibrillators

THANK YOU!

Viv has kindly been volunteering to regularly check and report in relation to our Island SDT registered Defibrillator since outset. She has now handed this over to staff.

We take this opportunity to thank Viv for all her work carrying out these regular checks and records online for our community.

Regular checks will now be shared between staff, with records updated on the national Heartbeat system, helping ensure defibs are always ready when needed.

SOAP Outdoor Activities

SDT continues to support SOAP outdoor activities, which have been well attended so far. Sadly we had to cancel the last one because of weather and ferry cancellations.

The next dates will be 14-15th February, 14th - 15th March, 28-29th March.

Pop the dates in your diaries and keep an eye out for our booking posters.

North Isles Wellbeing - Exploring a New Project

While Stronsay doesn't currently have a dedicated Wellbeing project, we're exploring whether a joint North Isles approach could work. This could lead to a long-term wellbeing project, potentially funded through the National Lottery, bringing coordinated support across several islands. This is at an exploratory stage.

HiTrans - Active Travel & Cycling (Grant Awarded)

Great news - SDT has secured a small grant fund from HiTrans to support local cycling and active travel. A full back-office system will be purchased using the HiTrans grant, making it easier to run and sustain cycling opportunities on the island for our community members and visitors utilising our EV bike.

Island Mobility & Climate Action

SDT is finalising the Island Mobility Transport Report for submission to CES ECOP. We're also continuing work on our Climate Action reporting, expanding this to include farming and fish farm activity, helping ensure island realities are reflected in climate planning.

£1,500 Grant Boost for Community Health Support

We are delighted to share that a £1,500 grant has been awarded by Orkney Heart Support Group to support Geramont Surgery in purchasing equipment that will directly benefit our community. The funding will enable the Surgery to invest in items that enhance local health provision and support the wellbeing of residents on Stronsay. Dr Wassim is currently working on developing a list of equipment to be purchased, ensuring that the funding is used where it will have the greatest impact for patients. We are extremely grateful to the team at Orkney Heart Support Group for their generosity and continued commitment to improving health outcomes across Orkney's communities. Their support highlights the importance of partnership working in sustaining vital local services in our island communities. We look forward to sharing updates once the items have been purchased and are in use.

STRONSAY MEN'S SHED – NEW MEMBERS WELCOME!

The Stronsay Men's Shed meets every Saturday at 10.30am in the Mission Hall, Lower Whitehall. We're a small but lively group who enjoy getting together to share a cuppa, swap stories, play games, and work on small projects – with plenty of tea, biscuits and bacon rolls to keep us going!

The Men's Shed movement began in Australia and is now thriving across Scotland. It's all about creating a welcoming place where men can come together, enjoy companionship, learn new skills, and support each other. As the Scottish Men's Sheds Association say:

"Sheds are for all men – a place to be yourself, to learn, to share, to laugh, and to belong."

Stronsay Men's Shed has its own aims and purpose, shaped by members, with a small informal committee to help things run smoothly. We're not about red tape – we're about friendship, community, and having a space where men of all ages (18+) and backgrounds can meet.

Recent projects have included making a puppet theatre for the school children, which was a great success, and we're now working to improve the Mission Hall with plans for a workshop, kitchen and more activity spaces.

We welcome donations to help keep things going, but most of all we welcome new members. Whether you fancy lending a hand with a project, just want to enjoy some company, or have ideas for how the Shed could grow, you'll be warmly welcomed.

So why not pop along one Saturday and see what it's all about? You'll find friendship, fun, and a good brew waiting for you!

Analogue to Digital Conversion of the UK Telephony Network by January 2027

Overview

By January 2027, all residents and businesses in the UK connected to the Public Switched Telephony Network (PSTN) managed by BT Group via Openreach will need to adapt their use of landlines. This change marks a significant transition from analogue to digital lines, as the existing telephone exchanges, many of which rely on outdated equipment from the 1980s, will be decommissioned.

Key Changes

- Digital Transition: Users will need to connect their landlines through a router, similar to how broadband services are used today.
- Provider Impact: Not all telephone service providers are affected. Companies like SKY and TalkTalk operate their own equipment and may not be part of this transition. However, some customers using these services might still be on lines originally from BT, so checking with providers is essential.

Special Services: If you rely on devices like intruder alarms or telecare systems, it's crucial to consult your device provider to ensure compatibility with the new setup.

Importance of the Change

- Router Requirement: If you don't already have a compatible router, one will be provided by your supplier. The switchover date will be communicated by your telephone company, and on that day, traditional sockets will cease to function.

Potential Service Disruption: Failing to adapt to the new system could result in losing access to your telephone service.

Notification Process

Individual Timelines: The switchover will occur at different times for different users. While the infrastructure has largely been upgraded, notifications will be sent individually by each telephony provider, potentially at varying times until the January 2027 deadline.

What You Can Do Now

- Device Audit: Evaluate all devices connected to your telephone sockets and verify with suppliers if they will function through a router.

Business Considerations: Businesses should similarly assess their equipment to ensure compatibility with the new digital setup.

Be Cautious

Beware of potential scams targeting vulnerable individuals. If you receive any communication requesting payment or claiming urgent action is needed, verify its authenticity by contacting your telephone company directly using the number provided on your bill.

This change represents a significant evolution in telephony services, aiming to enhance efficiency and reliability across the UK.

The Digital Phone Switchover

ORKNEY
ISLANDS COUNCIL

What you need to know

What is the digital phone switchover?

The UK's telephone network is changing. Between now and January 2027 most telephone providers will be moving their customers from old analogue landlines over to new upgraded landline services using digital technology. This means services that rely on the old landline system such as home phones, telecare and health devices will need to be compatible.

How will it affect me/what do I need to do?

The good news is – your landline isn't going anywhere and for most consumers and businesses, this change will be straightforward. In fact, many customers are already making the switch when they upgrade to fibre broadband.

Your telecoms provider (for example, Vodafone or BT) should contact you before the switchover to check in and discuss what you need to do to make sure any reliant services you may have aren't affected. However, we're encouraging everyone to know what to expect.

The change may be as simple as plugging your phone into a broadband router rather than the phone socket on the wall, or you may be given a new router to do this.

Please note that your provider will move you to a digital service before January 2027. If you care for a vulnerable person, please keep an eye out for correspondence notifying of a switch over date.

If you have any concerns or questions, please contact your telecoms provider directly.

Do you or someone you know depend on their landline and/or use a telecare device connected to a phone line?

If yes, then please contact the Telecare Team at Orkney Islands Council.

Tel: 01856 873 535. Extension 2635

The Digital Phone Switchover

ORKNEY
ISLANDS COUNCIL

What you need to know

Other Devices

If you have other devices connected to your phone line that you may have purchased, such as alarm systems, you might need to upgrade your device to make sure it is compatible.

If you are unsure about how a device in your home or business might be affected, it is recommended you contact the equipment supplier or device manufacturer to find out whether it will remain functional on a digital phone line.

People who use health monitoring or telecare devices should check if the switchover will affect how they work.

Key Points To Remember

If you have any queries or have no means of making emergency calls you need to contact your communications provider.

If you have a telecare alarm please contact the telecare team at Orkney Islands Council: 01856 873 535 Extension: 2635

Check with the appropriate equipment manufacturers if you have any other devices supported by your existing telephone line (such as intruder alarms) to check it will work digitally.

Most telecare alarm providers will have upgrade plans, if your phone line has or is due to be upgraded by your communication provider let them know.

In a Power Outage

Digital landlines cannot carry an electrical power connection, so in the event of a power cut they will not work. If you have a mobile phone this can still be used, but if you've no other means of calling the emergency services your telecoms provider will offer a solution to allow calls to be made to emergency services.

You should tell your telecoms provider now if you have no other way of making emergency calls.

Scams

There have been incidents reported of scammers contacting vulnerable users in relation to digital migration.

Communication providers or telecare services will never call you to ask for money.

Contact is usually by letter and charges are only applied to normal invoices. If you are in any doubt as to the authenticity of a caller, just hang up and call your communications or telecare provider to report the incident, using a trusted phone number, such as the one on the bill.

People across Scotland are being asked to help inform future plans by sharing their experiences of flooding.

People across Scotland are being invited to share their experiences of local flooding issues to help inform how flood risk is managed in their communities, as work continues on Scotland's next Flood Risk Management Plans.

The Scottish Environment Protection Agency's (SEPA) public consultation, launched on Wednesday 21st January, focuses on finding out about local flooding concerns in areas identified as having the highest flood risk. The feedback will help inform Flood Risk Management Plans (FRMP) covering 2028 to 2034, which will set out how Scotland reduces the impacts of flooding and builds resilience for the future.

Flooding is already affecting communities across Scotland, and climate change is increasing the likelihood of heavier rainfall and more frequent storms. SEPA's most recent National Flood Risk Assessment (2025) shows that around 400,000 homes, businesses and vital services, around one in eight across Scotland, are currently in areas at medium risk of flooding. This number is projected to rise to around 634,000 by 2100 as the climate continues to change.

The FRMP consultation builds on work carried out in 2024, when Potentially Vulnerable Areas were reviewed, and consulted on, to identify where highest flood risk is most likely now and in the future. These areas help focus attention and investment where flooding is most widespread or complex, and where partnership working is essential to reduce impacts.

The current consultation marks the next step in that process, focusing on gathering local insight to ensure future plans reflect lived experience. Running until 22nd April, it asks communities to share their main flooding concerns and highlight projects, initiatives or actions already helping to manage flood risk.

The aim is to help develop Flood Risk Management Plans that support resilient, well-informed communities, recognising the role of individuals, organisations and partnerships alongside national agencies and local authorities in adapting to a changing climate.

Eleanor Cooper, SEPA's Head of Environment Forecasting and Warning, said:
"Flood risk in Scotland is increasing as our climate changes, and many communities are already experiencing the effects. The National Flood Risk Assessment published last year shows why it's so important to plan ahead and work together to reduce the impacts of flooding. This consultation is about listening to communities and learning from local experience. By sharing concerns, experience and knowledge, people can help inform our understanding of flood risk in their area and support the development of flood risk management planning."

The consultation is part of a two-stage process. A second, more detailed consultation will begin from December 2026, when further information on flood risk, objectives and proposed actions will be published in partnership with local authorities. The final Flood Risk Management Plans are due to be published in December 2027.

You can find out more and take part in the consultation Flood Risk Management Phase 1 Consultation.

Records of a Bygone Age
Stronsay's Side Schools
Part 8 – A new chapter at the North

In last month's article we left the island mourning the sudden death in 1908 of teacher Margaret Tolmie. Mrs Tolmie had been the sole teacher at the North School since it opened in 1878 and had become something of an island institution during that time.

Following Mrs Tolmie's death Miss Margaret Cooper from Tifmaka, a Pupil Teacher at the Central, stepped in to teach at the North until a new appointment could be made. For this temporary appointment she was paid at a rate of 12/- (60p) per week plus another 1/- (5p) for cleaning the school.

The vacant post was advertised at a salary of £55 but, with no suitable applicants, was readvertised a few weeks later at an increased salary of £75 for a certificated teacher.

WANTED, for STRONSAY NORTH PUBLIC SCHOOL, a FEMALE TEACHER. Salary at the rate of £75 per annum, if certificated; or if provisionally certificated under Art. 60 or 79 of the Code of 1906, £70 per annum, with free house and garden. Applications, with testimonials, to be lodged with the Clerk before 1st April next. To commence duties as soon thereafter as possible.

Mrs Helen Flett, a 36 year old widow from Fyvie in Aberdeenshire, was later appointed to the post, moving into the schoolhouse with her 5 year old son Eric.

In September 1909 Mr Reid of Viewfield was appointed as cleaner at the North School at a rate of £5 per year, a considerable increase on Miss Cooper's 1/- (5p) per week! His duties were listed as: sweep the school every day; light fires each day in season; wash out the school floors not less than every 3 months; wash seats and woodwork at least once a year and clean the offices.

The HMI report of May 1914 was again very satisfactory, with the inspector noting 'This school, as far as discipline and instruction are concerned, is in good order. Reading, especially in the lower classes, requires more attention to secure some fluency and phrasing, and I read your response to what is desirable. Writing and arithmetic are well taught, and the written composition of the top class is worthy of a special mention.' The report also noted that the flooring was quite done and should be renewed and cleaned more frequently and also that a stove in one end of the school wasn't sufficient to heat the building. The report the following year noted that the school continued to be well taught and that there was an improvement in reading and oral subjects generally. The inadequate heating of the building was again brought to the School Board's attention.

At a Board meeting in 1915 it was noted that the United Free Church had for some time been given free use of the North, South and Rothiesholm Schools for use as Sabbath Schools and it was agreed that in future the janitor of each school should be paid 10/- (50p) per year for the extra work involved with this.

Mrs Flett, who had been teacher at the North School since the death of Mrs Tolmie in 1908, resigned her post in May 1917 to move back south.

A pleasing and interesting ceremony took place at the North School, Stronsay, last week, when the pupils presented their teacher, Mrs Flett with a silver entrée dish on behalf of the past and present pupils who had received instruction at her hands. The occasion was in consequence of the early departure of Mrs Flett from the island. Miss Barbara Corse and Miss Lena Swanney made the presentation on behalf of the subscribers, and in a few well-chosen remarks expressed their high appreciation of Mrs Flett's painstaking efforts on their behalf.

Before Mrs Flett left the island she was presented with a silver entrée dish on behalf of past and present pupils, as noted in the Orkney Herald at the time.

Mrs Flett was followed in post by Miss Adaline Foubister, but more of her later.

The Orkney Library and Archives holds a log book from Stronsay's North School covering the period from 2nd June 1905, at which time Mrs Margaret Tolmie would have been headmistress with a roll of around 30, until 12th October 1933, by which time Miss Frances Drever was in charge and the roll had fallen to just 8. I found this to be a very interesting record of the school and times of that period and much of the following information has been extracted from it.

A feature of the log was the importance given to attendance levels, marked each morning and afternoon, with those absent with no reasonable excuse quickly being identified and their parents spoken to. The main absences were weather related and illness related, where any significant illness had to be ratified by a medical certificate. The school appears to have been visited at least once a fortnight by the local 'School Board Officer', later called an 'Attendance Officer', with the first of those whose name appeared in the log being one Alex Chalmers, followed later in the log records by William Clyne and then Peter Twatt. The main duty of this officer appeared to be to view the attendance record and check if any pupils were absent without a valid excuse, recording this and reporting back to the School Board at their regular meetings. The school was also visited, seemingly once a term, by the School Board Clerk who at that time was Robert Miller.

The school, like all others receiving State educational grants, was also visited regularly by His Majesty's Inspectors of Schools and the first such inspection recorded in the log took place in October 1905. This seemed to be a very satisfactory report, recorded as 'The school is taught with painstaking kindness and the general progress has been satisfactory. Reading is fairly fluent, much suitable poetry has been learned and the answering in Geography is accurate and full. The oral work of the junior pupils is very promising, and might with advantage be extended to include more continuous narration. Exercise books have been carefully examined and corrected, but sum setting and writing are both somewhat lacking in neatness and will require attention. Singing and Drill are good. The demeanour and conduct of the children leave a pleasing impression.'

As recorded earlier, headmistress Margaret Tolmie had died very suddenly in February 1908 and the school was closed for a week as a mark of respect. It reopened under the guidance of Pupil Teacher Margaret Cooper until a new teacher was found in the shape of Mrs Helen Flett.

To compensate for lost attendances due to Mrs Tolmie's passing and previous closures due to bad weather the school opened on Saturdays throughout May, a move which probably failed to find favour with the 28 pupils on the roll at that time.

Epidemics of many sorts which led to school closures were an ongoing theme in that log book, with scarlet fever in 1907, German measles, followed soon after by typhoid in 1909, mumps in 1911, influenza in 1912 and whooping cough in 1914.

Particularly severe and long lasting snowstorms in the winter of 1908/09 and again in 1909/10 affected attendance very badly, with the school opening on some Saturdays once more to help compensate for missed school time.

19th May 1910 saw the school closed as part of a day of National Mourning following the passing of King Edward VII and later that year attendances were again recorded as very low due to 'pupils kept home to help with fishing and taking up tatties'.

By May 1913 the school roll was hovering around the 40 mark, seemingly the highest it had been for some time, and still being taught by one teacher. The log book entry for 9th May 1913 records that the two highest classes, 23 pupils in all, had left for the Central School and that in future no Standard IV would be taught in the North School. (I think this Standard IV would have been 10 and eleven year-olds.) Despite this transfer, with the intake of new pupils to the school the roll still stood at 33.

While on the subject of numbers on the school roll, it's worth recording an anecdote related by Caroline Fotheringham (nee Fiddler). Her father John Fiddler, she recalled, lived at Rose Cottage in the Lower Station and started his school career at the North School around 1904. On arrival for his first day of school there was no desk available for him so he spent the day sitting on a sheet of cardboard on top of the coal bucket! Needless to say, his parents were not best pleased with this and the following day he went to the Central School, never to return to the North.

Another visit by His Majesty's Inspector of Schools on 27th May 1914 produced the following report:

'This school, as far as discipline and instruction are concerned, is in good order. Reading, especially in the lower classes, requires more attention to secure some fluency and phrasing, and a readier response in oral work is desirable. Writing and arithmetic are well taught, and the written composition of the top class is worthy of special mention. A stove in one end of the school does not sufficiently heat it. The flooring is quite done; it should be renewed and scrubbed more frequently.'

Another HMI inspection was carried out in May 1915 and commented that 'The school continues to be well taught. There is an improvement in Reading and oral subjects generally.' It went on to state that 'The attention of the Board is again called to the inadequate heating and to the necessity of washing the floors etc. every month rather than three times a year.' This seems to have had the desired effect as the floor was replaced and the interior painted during the 1915 summer holidays, although there is no record of any improvement to the heating.

Scarlet Fever hit the island once more in the spring of 1916 where the log entry for 25th April reports that all children from the Station from Ebenezer down were excluded due to the epidemic. By 6th May this had extended to all the Stronsay schools being closed, reopening on the 22nd after being thoroughly disinfected. Numbers attending were low due to ongoing fears of the fever and the schools were all closed again on 5th June. Although the other schools all reopened on 19th June, the North School remained shut for a further week, with the school summer holidays being reduced by a month to help compensate for lost attendance. Attendance was affected badly once more in December that year, this time because of measles.

As noted previously Mrs Helen Flett, who had been teacher at the North School since the death of Mrs Tolmie in 1908, resigned her post and was to leave the island in May 1917. All schools in the island were granted a half-day holiday on 28th April to allow teachers and pupils to attend the sale of Mrs Flett's furniture and goods at the North Schoolhouse.

The vacant post was advertised in June 1917 at a salary of £70, together with a free house and £5 War Bonus. With no suitable applicants responding to this, the salary offered was later increased to £80. This enhanced salary must have been more attractive, with 24 year old teacher Miss Adaline Foubister from Kirkwall taking up the post in August.

STRONSAY HERITAGE SOCIETY

We would like to express our thanks to Ross for providing space in the Ebenezer Stores porch for the Charity Shelves – it is such a great asset to the island in helping to support local good causes. Also, of course, a huge thanks to the fantastic group of ladies who keep everything organised, tidy, and make sure the cash donations received get passed on to our local charities.

The Heritage Society has been really grateful for the use of the shelves over the past few months and are delighted to announce that we've now received the landmark figure of £1,000 in donations!

Thanks so much to everyone who continues to donate items for the shelves, and to those who buy them. Your support means a lot and makes a real difference.

Future funds raised from the Charity Shelves will now be going to another brilliant local project at the Stronsay Men's Shed.

Donations of surplus new items or good, clean used items of any kind are always very much appreciated and if you see anything you fancy on the shelves just pop a donation in the red cash box and take it home with you!

Stephen Clackson's Letter from School Place

A report from your councillor at the start of an uncertain year.

Above is shown (enlarged) the world's first Christmas postage stamp, issued by Canada in 1898 to inaugurate the Imperial Penny Post. It would cost you one penny (1d), or 2 cents in Canada, to send a Christmas card or letter (up to ½ oz) to most of the British Empire (but Australia & New Zealand had to wait until 1905), which is marked in red on the world map illustrated on the stamp. Today, the cheapest you can send a letter within the UK amounts to 208.8 times this figure; a multiple of 792 will get your Christmas card to Canada at the international economy rate, and you will be stung with a hefty factor of 816 to send it to anywhere in Europe! The penny post was discontinued in 1918, shortly before the British Empire reached its vastest.

2026 is the 250th anniversary of when thirteen British colonies on the east coast of North America took the decision to exit the British Empire. How wise that decision was (especially considering current events) can be judged by comparison with the control scenario to the north, where the colonies remained loyal and retained their ties with the United Kingdom (and still share our head of state, King Charles III). Now, where would you rather live right now, the USA or Canada? Forget the MAGA madness, sensible US citizens should be getting behind MAGBA (Make America Great Britain Again)!

Closer to home, 2026 is the year of the Scottish Parliament elections, which will take place on Thursday 7th May. (Why are elections always held on a Thursday?) To be eligible to vote in this election you need to be either a British or Irish citizen, or other foreign national permitted to enter or stay in the UK, and have reached the age of 16 on the day of the election. You also need to be registered to vote, so make sure you are on the Orkney Islands Area Register of Electors. If in doubt, you can contact our Electoral Registration Office by telephoning 01856-876222 or by e-mailing ero@orkney.gov.uk. You can also register on-line at <https://www.mygov.scot/voting-in-elections-in-scotland/register-to-vote>. Don't forget that there are no polling stations in the North Isles, so unless you are able and willing to travel into Kirkwall on the day, you'll need a postal vote.

On the council front, 2026 started quietly, beginning with a meeting of the UHI Orkney Stakeholder Group, at which I asked about ensuring that Orkney College's rodent management courses (an essential requirement if you wish to purchase professional-use rodenticides) are accessible to Isles residents. (For information, please e-mail ocshortcourses@uhi.ac.uk.) Other meetings I've attended recently include a seminar on the use of mobile digital devices in schools, a screening of the Scottish Government's budget announcement, an internal transport forum (with island transport reps), and a seminar by Places for People in relation to our Strategic Housing Investment Plan.

The Scottish Government's proposed budget (if approved) will be good news for our ferry replacement plans, with another £8,000,000 in the offing which we can put towards our Phase 1 (ships for Eday, Sanday, Stronsay & Westray) procurement. You can find full details at <https://www.orkney.gov.uk/latest-news/behind-the-headlines-ferry-replacement-programme/>.

- Helping with emotional concerns, connecting with wellbeing support and services
- Accessing information to answer questions or concerns about cancer and treatment

When someone affected by cancer accesses the ICJ service, they will be offered a Holistic Needs Assessment, which is a simple check-list style questionnaire that helps to understand what means most to the person. The key areas addressed within a Holistic Needs Assessment are financial, practical, physical, emotional and spiritual.

Based on this assessment and meaningful conversations with an ICJ Link Worker, a support plan will be created to ensure the person affected by cancer is offered all the support they need.

Patients can be referred into the service through a self-referral form or via a professional referral. Both referral forms, alongside further information, can be found on the ICJ page of the NHS Orkney website - Improving the Cancer Journey \(ICJ\) | NHS Orkney.

The referral forms can be filled in online and sent to the ICJ email address – ork.icj@nhs.scot.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about the ICJ service, please don't hesitate to get in touch. We are happy to support in any way we can.
