POWER CUTS

In the event of a power cut which lasts for more than a few minutes please contact the electricity board's help line by phoning 0800 300 999. The staff are extremely helpful and will soon be able to let you know roughly how long the power cut will last and how many households are affected.

STRONSAY SCHOOL BLOG

We would like to remind everyone about the Stronsay School Blog which has been available for some time now and is updated regularly. It shares some of Stronsay School's highlights through pictures and articles as well as a great deal of other relevant school information. You can access the blog at <http://stronsay-jh.blogspot.co.uk>. We hope that you will find the site interesting.

The next edition of the Limpet will be published on Thu 26 May. Items for inclusion in that edition should be submitted by 7pm on Sun 22 May. Contact details on back page

STRONSAY MARKETS

Some readers may remember stories that I have sent in to the Limpet about my gardening adventures. I am now well settled at Sunnybank and I have been able to reinstate the vegetable garden, adding things that I have learnt about. For example, when the wind blows it can rip up plants and hurl them into next week. So I have a great fuchsia hedge thanks to a historic owner; added wind breaks, cold frame and polytunnel. Since last year I have started to grow vegetables and since last autumn have had produce from the polytunnel. Fresh vegetables only arrive in Stronsay after they have had a long journey. During winter this can be 1000 miles or more. I decided to combine my love of growing with our local isolation and find out what I can grow to sell. So far it has been salad and occasional winter vegetables (leeks and cauliflower) but as the year progresses I am hoping to provide a wider range of produce including soft fruit, bedding plants and cut flowers. Although not registered to provide Organic produce, I do not use pesticides, weed killers or chemical fertilisers, preferring muck, seaweed and physical protection like fleece.

I plan to have lists of my available produce updated every week published on Facebook, Limpet web site and on an email list for folk's convenience.

The kit for the polytunnel arrived in May 2015 but took nearly 8 weeks to dig the foundations and construct the frame. The skinning was surprisingly trouble free with help from a couple of unskilled enthusiasts. helpers

With help, growing beds were made with walkways. These have now been improved with shuttling and hoops to support mesh, netting or polythene

Produce ready to go. With the help of extra light and heat it has been possible to have salads ready to harvest from February. Out door crops such as onions, leeks and calabrese have been given an early start and should be able to out under protection soon. The extreme gusty wind remains the biggest challenge but the wind breaks have made a difference. I am learning as I go and enjoying the experience.

RECENT BIRD SIGHTINGS

On returning from holiday in mid-April we were greeted by a Hawfinch feeding among the House Sparrows in the front garden – a major rarity as a garden bird throughout the UK. The bird had been seen by next-door-neighbour Nigel at the bird-feeders in the Lower Millfield garden the previous day (see photo taken through the kitchen window at Castle). As usual – and typical of this very wary species – the bird flew off at the slightest disturbance.

Whilst we were away a few small migrants arrived on the island – mainly in gardens – including several Dunnocks (Hazel at Airy, Kath Kent at Dale, Allison at Breck, and Butch and Flora at Seaview etc); one or two Chiffchaffs and Goldcrests, and several Robins, all - or at least most – no doubt arriving during the spells of easterly winds. Odd singles of Brambling and Chaffinch were also seen in late March/early April, along with a few Redwings.

On 14th April 3 migrants were in the small, compact garden at Park Cottage – a Robin at the feeders and a Chiffchaff and a female Blackcap feeding together on the lawn. There were 4 Goldcrests in the garden at Gesty Dishes on 15th and several flocks of Curlew were seen leaving the island that afternoon, their frantic cries alerting us to birds rising up from the fields and heading north-eastwards out of Mill Bay in a NE direction - directly towards Fair Isle which they can surely see. Don Peace saw a Glaucous Gull (the size of a Great Black-backed Gull but pure white, indicating a second year bird)) near the Airstrip in mid-April.

Sandwich Terns had arrived in good numbers and on the windy day of 18th, a flock of 20 were sheltering by the Matpow Loch. Sue spotted the first swallow on 19th near The Mill, since when there have been a few other sightings. Kath and Norman also had a House Martin around this time. The Mill Bay Sand Martins are back again and as in previous years may be seen regularly (in fact nearly every time we go past in the car) flying over the road either towards or from the Meikle Water. Shelducks have been seen regularly, with a big count of 17 on several occasions on the Bu Loch. Other species of (mainly freshwater) duck seem to be present in typical numbers – Gadwall, Teal, Shoveler, Tufted Duck, and Mallard, whilst on the sea there seem to be more Eiders present this year than for some time. There is a flock of 8 or so between the piers in Whitehall Village as I write.

Meadow Pipits are back along the roadsides and plenty of Skylarks have been heard but it is hardly 'Spring' weather at present and many species will delay nesting while the cold weather lasts. It is encouraging that there have been several recent sightings of Short-eared Owl, indicating that the birds may breed on the island again this year.

Thanks again for all the calls.

John Holloway.

LETTER FROM SCHOOL PLACE

Our Easter recess provided a welcome break from Council duties in Kirkwall, giving me time to catch up on pending tasks on my at-home list. Among these was to archive the nine-year's-worth of Sanday Community Council papers I accumulated as a community councillor before becoming an OIC councillor. Going through them was a bit of a trip down Memory Lane, but, disappointingly, this lane passes through a landscape still largely unimproved by progress. I came across a response to a consultation undertaken in 2009 entitled "10 Year Isles Vision". Among the island-specific suggestions were:

- Establishment of "outworker" offices

- Affordable business units

- Sheltered residential facilities for elderly residents

- Broadening of the school curriculum (particularly in science and foreign languages)

- Establishment of adult education and life-long learning facilities

- Identification of areas to be kept free of housing and industrial development

Although tentative steps are being taken in the right direction (and destinations reached on some islands), there are only 3 years left in which to realise this "10 Year Vision"!

Whole-Orkney-relevant requests which have still got nowhere included:

- Orkney-based air ambulance

- OIC-owned Orkney Power Company

- Orkney Bank*

And interesting ideas still on the shelf:

- Development of ship refit facilities in Orkney (to refurbish our own ferries)

- Orkney Brains Trust* as an independent advisory body to OIC etc.

I regret to report that my "cunning plan" to secure extra funding for our mobile library has been unsuccessful. Given the interest shown by prominent authors in the matter (see, for example, The Guardian, 17th March), I wrote to J.K. Rowling asking her if she might be interested in sponsoring the service. I received a reply (complete with 1st class, "Harry Potter" postage stamp) from her secretary informing me that the Orkney Mobile Library Service does not fall within the guidelines of Ms Rowling's charitable trust. Does anybody have any other imaginative (and hopefully more successful) solutions to suggest?

Sabhal Mòr Ostaig – Can you pronounce it?

My travels this month have taken me to Rousay for a meeting of the Rousay, Eglisay, Wyre & Gairsay Community Council and to Sleat on the Isle of Skye to attend, on behalf of OIC, the UHI Foundation Conference at Sabhal Mòr Ostaig, the UHI's Gaelic-speaking college. One of the things we learnt at the conference was how to pronounce Sabhal Mòr Ostaig.

Proper policing is something which is always of concern to those of us who live in the Isles. Police Scotland now has an online public survey facility accessible at www.scotland.police.uk/yourviewcounts to allow you to tell them what is important to you.

CLOUD DANCERS!

By Ellie from Newfield

Amazing and perfect,
A masterpiece of design,
The perfect fashioned nursery
In which the new-borns will recline.
No loose or tatty edges,
No embellishments or frills,
Made of course for the purpose,
Built out of skills.
Four trusting little new-borns
With beaks forever receiving
While the parents rush around
With energy unbelieving.
The starlings of tomorrow
Who will later take their chances.
Brilliant little birds
Surely known as “cloud dancers”.
Mother Nature’s pride I feel sure
Are the formation dancing birds
Who fly in breath-taking glory
For which there are no words.
A magnificent show is displayed,
No rehearsals or practice tries,
Perfection dancing in harmony,
The starlings, the stars of the skies.
An honour it think to watch them,
One of nature’s rewarding treats,
And Mother Nature takes a bow
For she’s another drum to beat!

BAY KIRKYARD

Orkney Island Council is assessing the repairs required to the damaged wall at Bay Kirkyard. Sections of the walls have metal posts and these posts originally had wire mesh attached to keep rabbits out of the Kirkyard. However this is currently not an issue and some of the posts have become loose.

As part of the repairs it is proposed to remove the metal posts but if you have any comments or concerns over this proposal then please contact Colin McAlpine, Island Link Officer, by 16 May on email stronsaycommunitycouncilclerk@btinternet.com or phone 616 475 and he will collate comments and pass these to Orkney Island Council.

STRONSAY GAMES CLUB VOLUNTEER LEADER/ORGANISER

Stronsay Games Club is looking for an enthusiastic, volunteer leader to run the long-established Games Club for young people aged between 10 and 18 years who have met every Friday evening between 8 and 10pm during school term times, used a wide range of games and equipment and participated in occasional youth-centred events in Kirkwall. Unfortunately with no one to take the lead, the Games Club has not met for several months.

You will not be alone. A pool of adult volunteers is available to assist and support you. You will need to be a PVG Member, enjoy working with young people, be organised and have a good sense of humour.

If you are interested in taking on this lead role, or require more information, please contact the Association's Secretary.

Go on, be positive and do something to help the youth of our island.
